

7th

APOLLO BAY MUSIC FESTIVAL

19th - 21st
MARCH 1999

Souvenir Program $ 2.00

VLADIMIR KOCIBELLI AND HIS BAND

The violin virtuoso appears with his band presenting a variety of intoxicating rhythms and melodies of Gypsy Hungary, Romania and Albania. After thirty years of experience as a professional performer working with Melbourne's best orchestras, The Albanian State Opera and Ballet, touring the world extensively, Vladimir has released his own original album.

Vladimir Kocibelli (violin), Paul Sarcich (percussion), Herris Kocibelli (guitar), David Abuso (double bass).
Enquiries: 03 9311 6924

Sat 11.30am Greenacres
Sat 7.15pm Catholic Church
Sun 12.45pm Senior Citizens Centre

Richworth Publishing, publisher of

VICTORIA'S FANTASTIC FESTIVALS AND FUN EVENTS

is proud to be associated with the
Apollo Bay Music Festival

This book is an annual publication that contains detailed information about more than 1200 of Victoria's festivals, events, exhibitions, agricultural shows, carnivals, field days, expos and special fairs.

This invaluable guide can be purchased from Information Victoria and selected Visitor Information, RACV offices, Collins and Dymock's booksellers, bookshops and newsagencies

Richworth Publishing
Tel & Fax (03) 9534 4371

WOLFGANG THEATRE CLAN

Come, experience the galabant tom frippery of the Wolfgang theatre clan as they take you on a quest into your own imagination. You will be amazed and confused, astounded and intrigued! As strange creatures, larger than life, bring the poetical words of CS Lewis into the light and colour of the theatrical platform. Wolfgang are a family troupe evolving a unique style that can delight the child and stimulate the more mature audience.

Isobel, Ross, Merin, Gnat, Dharma, Hoya, Ell'e, Jera, Red Bek, Mustapha

Fri night Opening Fire Ceremony
Sat 9.30pm Outside PBS/VicHealth Marquee

ZULYA

Zulya takes you on a fascinating musical journey from her homeland Tatarstan in the heart of Russia, across the gypsy trail discovering song traditions from many countries. Zulya's stellar voice captures the music of four continents in a dozen languages and she has dazzled audiences with her multi cultural fluidity and passion for song. Her startling vocal range, mesmeric stage presence and her depth of knowledge of her ancestral Tatar music and her ongoing exploration of other musical traditions create one of Australia's multi cultural treasures.

Zulya Kamalova (vocals), Martin Tucker (kora, flute, keyboard, percussion). Enquiries: 03 6229 6386

Fri 10.05pm Catholic Church
Sat 2.30pm Catholic Church
Sun 2.30pm Uniting Church