TRISH RICHARDSON

Trish Richardson has an emotional and powerful voice. She will be performing her own songs at this 10th Festival. Early April she will record her first album of original songs with New Zealand's number one music producer Paddy Free – who is famous for producing music by Crowded House, Neil Finn, Salmonella Dub and Pitch Black. Trish's performances are wild and exciting.

TZU

tzu is a Melbourne hipop crew formed in 99, out of the guts of two well established live hipop crews "Pan" and "Curse ov Dialect". Their sound is an irrational blend of intelligent humble rhymes, beats that are raw and fat, and scratches that are tight, integral and always funky. Consisting of two M.C's a D.J and a Sampler Handler, tzu mix up the live format with tight, well rehearsed flows, motown like dance steps and freestyle improvisations.

UNDERSTOREY

Understorey are a politically intelligent band focusing on environmental, indigenous & social justice issues. Appropriately named, all members were drawn together from their love of the forests. Understorey's dreamy, haunting melodies float sublimely beyond other tired crackle & noise, and they're only just beginning to blossom.

Jamie Antonio (lead vocals/acoustic guitar), David Butt (electric guitar/vocals), Adam Gooderham (percussion/vocals), Kate Hosking (bass/vocals)
